XvT Update. "It is out at <http://www.lucasarts.com> but I can't vouch for the copy at scorched's. Everyone is to update. If They (those at lucasarts) think its needed and is an improvement, then we should do it. Also, since version 1.0 will no longer be in production, that means that some people will be purchasing the 1.1 version to start with. Since we want to be able to interact with them in combat, we need to upgrade. Everyone needs to complete the upgrade before you go into the next training."

"Notes: One of the most important things to know about this version of X-Wing vs. TIE Fighter is that for multiplayer play this upgraded version is NOT compatible with version 1.00. All players must be running the same version of the game. The game will not allow players to join a multiplayer game if they are running a different version than the host. If you experience problems joining a game, this may be your problem.

While for multiplayer play the game versions are incompatible, the pilot files are fully compatible. Therefore, you may continue to use your pilots from the original version.

You can verify that the upgrade is properly installed by starting the game and looking for the version text in the lower right hand corner of the data pad. It should say "v.1.1".
